

MORAY
●
○

THE WOLF OF BADENOCH

STORIES FROM THE SHADOWS

Alexander Stewart (The Wolf) resided with his wife Euphemia, Countess of Ross in Lochindorb Castle, but when his wife proved unable to bear a child Alexander dismissed her to make way for his mistress.

*Cathedral and Toun
Wyld wrath did engulf
Lone Lochindorb Castle
The lair of the Wolf*

Share your story

#MyMorayStory

MORAYSGREATPLACES.COM

DID YOU KNOW....

■ The Bishop of Moray refused the Wolf's request to annul his marriage and in 1390, his retribution was to set alight the towns of Forres and Elgin.

■ According to legend, one night the Wolf of Badenoch was visited by a man cloaked in black, who engaged him in a game of chess. When the visitor declared 'checkmate' there was an almighty storm and in the morning the Wolf was found dead within Ruthven castle.

1. Falconer Museum
2. Kinloss Abbey
3. Pluscarden Abbey
4. Elgin Cathedral
5. Spynie Palace
6. Drumin Castle
7. Ruthven Castle
8. Lochindorb Castle